UNIT-1 INTRODUCTION TO COMPANIES ACT 2013

TOPIC: Definition of a company and its features/characteristics.

Introduction:

A company is one of the forms of business organization. It is a voluntary association of persons and is formed for certain common purposes. Its capital is raised by selling shares and the persons holding such shares are known as shareholders. The liability of shareholders is limited to the extent of the shares they hold.

Meaning:

A company is a voluntary incorporated body, which is an artificial legal person, having a separate legal entity, created by law with limited liability having a common seal and perpetual succession. If an association is not incorporated under the Companies Act, it neither enjoys any independent and distinct existence nor does it become a body corporate. A company formed possesses a legal personality only when it is registered under the Companies Act. This is so because the law confers on a company, on its registration, distinct personality and it becomes a very different person or entity from its member or the individuals composing it.

Definition:

1. Section 2(20) of the Companies Act, 2013 defines ‘Company’ as under: “Company” means a company incorporated under this Act or under any previous company law.

2. Let us consider the definitions stated by Lord Justice Lindley and Haney. "A company is an artificial person, a mere creation of law and it gives every right to possess or to create assets, to incur liabilities and to carry on the business activities according to the provisions of the law."

Characteristics of a company:

1. Artificial person created by law:

A company has no body, no soul, and no conscience nor is it subject to affection of the body. These physical disabilities make the company an artificial person. But then a company really exists and it is not a fictitious entity.

2. Voluntary organization:

A company is a voluntary association of persons to earn profits. It is formed for the accomplishment of some public good. The profit is divided among its shareholders. A company cannot be formed to carry on any activity against the public policy and having no profit motive/objective.

3. Separate legal entity:

A company is regarded as an entity separate from its members. In other words, it has an independent corporate existence. A member of the company cannot, therefore, be held liable for the acts of the company. Even if he holds the whole share capital of the company. Law as a single person regards a company. It has a legal personality. This rule applies even in the case of 'one Person Company'.

4. Company can be sued and be sued:

A company can sue and be sued in its corporate name. It may also be or suffer wrongs. It can in fact do or have done to it most of the things which may be done by or to a human being.

5. Perpetual Succession:

A company is a juristic/legalistic person with a perpetual succession as such it never dies. Its life does not depend on the life of its members. It is not affected by insolvency, mental disorder or retirement of any of its members. Members may come and go but the company goes on forever.

6. Common seal:

Since the company has no physical existence, but it is person created by law, it must act through its agents and all contracts entered into by its agents must be under the seal of the company. It is called the common seal of the company. The common seal acts as the official signature of the company.

7. Transferability of shares:

The capital of a company is divided into parts called shares. These shares are subject to certain conditions, freely transferable so that no shareholder is permanently or necessarily attached to the company.

8. Separate property:

A company as already observed is a legal person different from its members. It is therefore capable of owning enjoying and disposing of property in its own name. Although the shareholders contribute the capital and assets of the company, they are not the private and joint owners of the property of the company.

9. Limited Liability:

The liability of the members of a company may be limited by shares or limited by guarantee. In a company limited by shares, the liability of the members is limited to the unpaid value of the shares. In a company limited by guarantee, the liability of members is limited to such amount as the members may undertake to contribute to the assets of the company at the time of winding up of the company.

10. Management:

The board of directors, whole time directors, managing directors or manager, manages a company. These persons are selected in the manner provided by the Act. A shareholder, as such cannot participate in the management.

11. Number of members:

In the case of a private limited company, the minimum number of members is 2 while the maximum is 200. But in the case of a public limited company, the minimum number is fixed at 7 while there is no maximum limit on membership.

TOPIC:- History/Development of Company Law in India.

Introduction:

The law relating to business such as companies and partnership regulates important areas of daily life, and allows you to see that there is a connection between the law and the way in which people think and behave when running a business. It allows you to consider the implication of creating a legal framework, which regulates the aspects of daily life. It allows a study of how and why law is made, and how and why it changes; it allows an appreciation, of some of the pressures, which bring about change in and development of law and what roles individuals may play.

1. Act of 1850:

Company legislation in India owes its origin to the English Company Law. The Companies Acts passed from time to time in India have been following the English Companies Acts with certain modifications to suit Indian conditions. The first legislative enactment for "Registration of Joint Stock Companies" was passed in the year 1850. This Act was based on the English Companies Act, 1844 (known as the Joint Stock Companies Act of 1844) which recognized the company as distinct legal entity, but did not grant to it the privilege of limited liability.

2. Act of 1857:

The Act of 1850 was replaced by a new act bearing the same name in 1857. In this act, the principle of limited liability was introduced for the first time in India. The English Companies Act, 1856 (known as the Joint Stock Companies Act of 1856) replaced both the Acts of 1844 and 1855. Under this Act, the company legislation assumed for the first time a form which has been broadly handed down almost to the present day, subject to various amendments which were made from time to time to suit various exigencies. Under this Act, 7 or more persons could form themselves into an incorporated company, with or without limited liability, by signing a Memorandum of Association and complying with the requirements of the Act.

3. Act of 1860:

Both the English Act of 1856 and the Indian Act of 1857 did not extend the privilege of limited liability to banking company. This usability was removed in England by the Joint Stock (Banking Companies) Act of 1857 and the Joint Stock (Banking) Companies Act of 1858 which brought banking companies, both with limited and unlimited liability, within the operation of the Act of 1856. In India, the Joint Stock Companies Act of 1860, passed on the lines of the English Act of 1856 enabled, banking companies to register, subject to certain condition with limited liability. Acts relating to companies were passed in 1860, 1866, 1882, 1895, 1910 and 1913. This Act of 1866 was based on the English Companies Act of 1862, which has been called "a masterpiece of legislation". Sir Francis Palmer described it as the "magna carta of co-operative enterprise."

4. Act of 1913:

Following the English companies consolidation act 1908, the Indian Companies act, 1913 was passed. This Act also like its predecessors was almost a verbatim reproduction of the English Act of 1908. It may be noted that since this Act closely followed the English Act of 1908, the decisions of the English Courts under the English Company Law were also closely followed by the Indian Courts. As such, some amendments were made in the Act in the years 1914, 1915, 1920, 1926, 1930 and 1932. The Act was extensively amended in 1936 on the lines of the English Companies Act of 1929. From 1937 to 1951, further amendments were made almost every year in the 1913 Act and it remained in force upto 1956.

5. Act of 1956

In 1950, the government appointed an expert committee under the chairmanship of Shri C.H.Bhabha to suggest how the company law can be reformed. The companies Act of 1956 is based mainly on the recommendations of the committee. The Act of 1956 has been amended in 1960, 1963, 1965, 1969, 1971 and 1974. The companies (Amendments) Act of 1974, was applied from 1st February, 1975. Thereafter based on the recommendations of the Sachar Committee Report, the companies Act of 1956 was again amended.

6. Act of 1996:

In the year 1996, a working group was constituted to rewrite the companies Act in order to facilitate the healthy growth of the Indian Corporate sector to make it more competitive under the changing global situation. Many important amendments were introduced in the year 1996, 1997, 2000, 2001, 2002 and 2006. Due to change in the economic scenario at the national and international level, economy has become more dynamic and complex.

Functioning of the companies, now days is not restricted to what existed half a century back. They are now more into the exports and imports. It was therefore felt necessary that more autonomy of operations and innovation was required for the corporate entities. Therefore, a comprehensive review of company law was felt necessary and govt. of India took the herculean task of revamping the existing law in force.

7. Act of 2013:

On 4th August 2004, a ‘Concept Paper on New Company Law’ was placed on the website of Ministry of Companies Affairs. Govt. of India and Suggestions were Called from the stakeholders. An expert committee comprising of representatives from various concerned departments, professional and trade bodies etc. was constituted under the Chairmanship of Dr. J.J. Irani On 2nd December, 2004, to discuss the suggestions. Companies Law Bill, 2008 was introduced in the Parliament but was lapsed due to the dissolution of Lok Sabha. Since then revamped Companies Law Bill was introduced to the parliament, in various forms in 2010, 2011 and finally in 2012. The said bill was pass by Lok Sabha on 18 December 2012 and by Rajya Sabha on 8th August, 2013. It received assent from the president of India on 29th August, 2013 and was enforced w.e.f. 1 April 2014. The new Act has been consolidated into 29 chapters, 470 sections and 7 schedules as against 13 parts, 658 sections and 15 schedules of the previous Act.

UNIT 2

Strategy of Formation of company

1.00 Introduction:

According to Section 3(1): “A company may be formed for any lawful purpose by-

- (a) Seven or more persons, where the company to be formed is to be a public company;
- (b) Two or more persons, where the company to be formed is to be a private company; or
- (c) One person, where the company to be formed is to be one-person company.

In other words, a company may be formed by making an application to the Registrar of companies, in the format prescribed by the act. Application has to be accompanied with the statutory documents such as Memorandum of Association, articles of association and consent letters, prospectus etc. such company can be formed with limited or unlimited liabilities and where the company is formed with limited liability, it can either be limited by shares or by guarantee. The formation of company has to undergo different stages as given below:

Diagram:

2.00 Pre-incorporation stages of a company:

After the inception of an idea, to start with a new business there comes a phase to convert this idea into reality. I.e. concrete form. Promoters undergo following procedure during the pre-incorporation stage.

2.1 Idea of Business:

The promotion of the company is one idea or one concept. It should occur on what basis a company is to be established. The promoter thinks of establishing a company due to various relations like idea of a new product and its production, thinking of any available product in the market or idea of any new type of services, etc.

2.2 Primary test:

Company cannot be established directly just after having an idea on the part of the promoter. It is to be tested, how much practical is the idea, would it be economically possible to convert an idea into reality or not.

2.3 Detailed investigation:

After primary test, the promoter carries out detailed investigation of the business. The investigation includes collection of information about location and sight for the company, raw material, capital requirement, present and potential demand of the product, etc. For this purpose the help of C.A., Cost Accountants, and Engineers, Marketing experts or management consultant are needed.

2.4 Mobilizing the resources:

Now the promoter has to collect human and physical resources. Contracts for the appointment are to be made with persons and officers needed for the proposed company. The land, machinery, plant, etc. are to be acquired.

2.5 Arrangement of Finance:

For collecting the resources, finance is to be obtained how much and from where the finance is to be obtain requires following points to be considered:

1. Funds to be obtained should be owned or borrowed.
2. Shares to be issued privately or to public at large.

3.00 Procedure to get certificate of incorporation:

Joint Stock Company has to get the certificate of incorporation. Following procedure has been imposed by the Indian companies act.

3.1 Memorandum of Association (M.O.A.):

This is the main and basic document of a company. It contains the name of the company, address of the registered office, purpose of the company, share capital and other information of the company. MOA is compulsory for both private and public company. It is a constitution charter of the company containing important information regarding the company.

3.2 Articles of Association (AOA):

It is the subsidiary document of the company. AOA is the base for internal administration of the company. The information about share capital, directors, managers, meetings, voting rights of the members etc. are contained in it. It is compulsory for a private company. Whereas public company can prepare Table-A instead of AOA.

3.3 List of Directors:

Public and registrar of company should know who is going to manage the company. Therefore, the list of name, address, business, nationality, etc. of the directors should be given to the registrar. It is not compulsory to prepare such list in case of private company.

3.4 Written consent of directors:

The name of any person cannot be enlisted baselessly as directors. His name has to be registered with his consent. For this purpose, his written consent to work, as a director must be obtained and to be submitted to the registrar.

3.5 Acceptance to subscribe for qualification shares:

Many companies are making such provisions that the proposed directors have to purchase certain minimum shares to become a director. These shares are known as qualification shares. Each director has to give written consent that he will purchase these shares which is to be registered with the registrar.

3.6 Statutory Declaration:

In addition to fulfillment of procedure stated above, the company should file with the registrar a statutory declaration. It is a statement stating that all the provisions have been observed and the entire document have been registered with the company registrar.

The registrar will issue certificate of incorporation of business after the completion of above-mentioned procedure. The company comes into existence on the date when the company receives the certificate of incorporation.

4.00 Procedure to get certificate of commencement of business:

A private company can immediately start business after getting certificate of incorporation. However, a public company can start business only after getting certificate of commencement from the registrar. For this following procedure is followed:

4.1 Address of registered office:

Company registrar and public should have information about the place from where operation and the transaction will be made for this purpose. The address of registered office is to be registered with the company registrar within 15 days and verify it within 30 days from getting the certificate of incorporation. It is necessary to register the address in case when it is not given in MOA

4.2 Issuing Prospectus:

Prospectus means inviting public to participate in company's capital. Due to the publication of prospectus public comes to know about the starting of the company.

Many a times a company needs not to get capital from the public. So it is not required to provide information to the public. Hence instead of prospectus, statement in lieu of prospectus is to be registered with the registrar.

4.3 Listing in recognized stock exchange:

If buying and selling of shares can be made freely, the prestige of company increases. So many companies are enlisting their shares on a recognized stock exchange where buying and selling of shares of companies takes place easily of course it is not compulsory to enlist the shares on stock exchange.

4.4 Minimum subscription:

If a company, wants to start a business it will require certain minimum capital. The minimum requirement of capital is known as minimum subscription. Company has to give information of minimum subscription in prospectus. Minimum subscription should be at least 90% of issued capital. Company should prepare statement indicating that it has collected minimum subscription within stipulated time period that is within 120 days from the period of issue of prospectus.

4.5 Approving preliminary contracts:

It is necessary for the company to enter into contracts during promotion and incorporation period. Eg. The company might have purchased land, machinery, etc. contracts to get services of engineers, architect, C.A., Managers etc. might have been made. Now the company has come into existence. So the contracts should be approved.

4.6 Qualification shares:

The directors have to hold certain qualification shares at the time of obtaining certificate of incorporation. Directors have to give acceptance of holding such shares. Now before getting

- Society creates its great personality
- Society provides all facilities for establishing industry.

As a company is intended to, the society, it becomes its moral duty to pay its debt towards the society.

2.00 Meaning of Company's Social Responsibility:

Company's social responsibility means whatever is to be returned by it to the society from moral point of view as a reward of various types of benefit, facilities offered by the society to it.

Peter Drucker rightly said that, "During the last few years, if there has been an important development in the business field, it is the owner of the commercial activity – Company has realized its social responsibilities".

Thus, whatever company is today it is only because of the society & it is the debtor of society. The paying of debt to the society is known as company's social responsibility.

3.00 Responsibility towards employee:

It is fact that because of special skill of the employee, company can make its dreams true. If a company could not get positive response from its employees, company's dream would remain dream only. So a company should undertake honest & sincere efforts for protecting its employees. To protect employee's interest, a company should fulfill the following responsibilities.

- Pay reasonable wages.
- Healthy facilities in the factory.
- Recognize labor union
- Determine condition of service
- Adopt compromising approach for the solution of problem
- Provide facility of social security
- Adopt intensive method
- Formation of joint managing committees

4.00 Responsibility towards investors:

In the modern age, the size of the industry has become very big so naturally company has to get more capital. Company cannot arrange whole capital alone. Therefore, for purpose of getting capital, it has to issue share or it has to borrow money from other financial institutes. So company must fulfill following social responsibility towards investors.

UNIT-2 STRATEGY OF COMPANY FORMATION

TOPIC – Memorandum of Association.

1.00 Introduction:

MOA is one of the most important documents, which a company is required to prepare to get the certificate of incorporation. MOA is to be prepared by both, private as well as public company and get it registered at the office of company registrar. MOA helps all the interested parties such as shareholders, creditors etc. to know about existence of a company and gives them all the required information about the company affairs

2.00 Meaning & Definition:

According to Lord Cairns, “MOA is a fundamental charter of a company”.

According to Lord McMillan, “the aim of MOA is to inform the shareholders, creditors and all others dealing with the company about the scope of activity of the company.”

Thus, MOA is the charter constitution and fundamental document of a company.

3.00 Clauses of MOA:

As per the requirement of companies’ act 2013, 6 clauses are included in MOA:

3.1 Name Clause:

A company is free to choose any name it likes but the act laid down certain conditions before a company can choose its name. They are as Follows:

- Name of the president or governor or any name related to them must not be permitted.
- The name should not symbolize any undesirable meaning as per rules and conditions of the act.
- The name connected to any international organization such as UNO, WHO is not permissible.
- The name should not resemble the name of such registered company.
- The word “limited” should be used for public company and ‘Private Ltd.’ should be used for private company.
- Companies which are formatted for the purpose of promoting science, religion, etc the word limited can also be removed if such company acquire special license from the central government.
- In case of one person company, the words “one person company” should be printed in brackets, below its name.

3.2 Domicile clause (Address clause):

- Every company must have its registered office to which all the communication and notices are sent. Therefore this clause indicates the place of the state where the registered office is situated.
- The company registrar notes the address of the office of that company and after that it is called registered company.
- Documents, registers and books of accounts are maintained at this office.
- This clause determines the legal jurisdiction and gives the company its domicile and nationality i.e. the company is Indian company or foreign company.
- The actual and full address of the registered office must reach to the registrar within 15th day from the date of its incorporation.

3.3 Object Clause:

- This clause lays down the object for which the company is formed.
- It also determines the extent of the power and the authority which the company can have in order to achieve its objectives. This clause is considered as most important clause because the company cannot undertake any activity which is not mentioned in the clause. Such activity will be considered illegal to the company.

□ Eg.: The object clause says that the company will produce and sell cement and if the same company does the business of cotton textile in the long run then this activity will be ultra-vires for the company.

□ Thus, objectives of the company cannot be against the general laws of the company.

3.4 Liability clause:

□ This clause states the whether the liability of members is limited or unlimited or limited by guarantee.

□ In case of limited liability the liability of shareholder is limited to the face value of shares held by them.

□ Company registered with unlimited liability need not have to mention the liability clause in MOA.

□ Shareholders of such company can get their liability limited by passing special resolution and obtaining permission from the court.

□ In case of liability limited by guarantee the liability of share holders is limited to the amount they have guaranteed at the time of incorporation.

□ In Case of one person company the name of the person who in the event of death of the subscriber, shall be nominated the member of the company must be stated in the liability clause.

3.5 Capital clause:

□ This clause mentions the authorized capital, face value of shares and total issue of shares of the company.

□ Authorized capital is the total amount of capital which the company requires during its lifetime.

□ The company obtains its capital through the issue of equity shares and preference shares.

□ In the case of a company limited by guarantee, the amount up to which each member undertakes to contribute at the time of winding up should be specified. If the company limited by guarantee also has a share capital the capital clause of such company has two capital clauses, (i) one relating to the guarantee and (ii) another relating to share capital.

3.6 Association Clause:

□ In this clause the promoter declares that they desire to form a company and they agree to take shares stated against their name. Each promoter must sign in the presence of at least one witness.

B. Decrease in capital:

Usually a company cannot reduce capital because capital is life blood of business. But with the compliance with the procedure of the act, company can alter its capital clause in the form of reduction.

For the purpose of alteration a special resolution should be passed and approval of court is required. Order of the approval of the court and altered MOA and AOA and special resolution should be filed with the registrar within 30 days of the order. After that a registrar issues new certificate of incorporation.

C. Rearrangement of capital:

Company can rearrange its capital in the below stated any manner:

- Consolidation (combine) or low priced share into high price.

Ex.: 10 shares of Rs. 10 each can be consolidated into 1 share of Rs. 100 each.

- Sub division of high priced shares into low price share.

Ex.: 1 share of Rs. 100 each may be divided into 10 shares of Rs. 10 each

- Conversion of fully paid up shares into stock.

For this purpose ordinary resolution must be passed in the shareholders meeting. A copy of altered MOA and AOA must be filed with the registrar within 30 days of passing a resolution.

2.6 Alteration of association clause:

Alteration cannot be made possible in this clause.

TOPIC: Doctrine of ultra-vires:

ANS.: Any company has the power to do all these things which are:

- Authorized to be done by the company's act 1956.
- Necessary for achieving the objectives as specified in the memorandum.
- Reasonably and fairly identical (related) to its objectives.

The word 'Ultra' means 'beyond' and 'vires' means 'power'. The term ultra-vires the company means that doing such activity which is beyond the legal power and authority of the company.

The purpose of the registration is to protect:

- Investors in the company so that they can know objects in which their money is invested.

- ☐ Creditors by ensuring that company's fund are not wasted in unauthorized activities.

1.0 Effect of ultra-vires transaction:

1. Injunction:

Whenever a company does something beyond the scope of its activity or object as laid down in the MOA, any of its members can get an injunction from the court for stopping the company from proceeding with ultra-vires activity.

2. Personal liability of directors:

Any member of the company can take actions against the directors of the company to force them to give back those funds to the company which have been use by them for ultra-vires transactions. It is the duty of the directors of a company to assure that the funds of a company are used for achievements of the object for which the company is incorporated.

3. Breach of warranty of authority:

Any agent is personally liable for breach of warranty of authority to the third party, if he exceeds his authority. The directors of a company are its agents. Thus, if they include any outsider to enter into a contract which is ultra-vires the company then such directors will be personally liable to that outsider for his loss incurred for breach of warranty of authority

4. Ultra-vires contract:

A contract of a company which is ultra-vires the company is void from the beginning and has no legal effects. Neither the company nor the other contracting party can force the contract which is ultra-vires the company.

5. Ultra-vires acquired property:

Although ultra-vires transactions are void, yet if a company has acquired some property under an ultra-vires transaction, it has a right to hold that property and protect it against the damages of other person.

6. Ultra-vires torts (Mistakes):

A company is not liable for torts committed by its agent during the course of ultra-vires transaction. A company is however liable for the torts if it can be shown that activities in the course of which that was committed falls within the scope of memorandum and the agent committed the tort within the course of his employment.

TOPIC: Doctrine of Indoor Management.

1.00 Doctrines of constructive notice:

In consequences of the registration of the memorandum and articles of association of the company with the Registrar of Companies, a person dealing with the company is deemed to have constructive notice of their contents. This is because these documents are considered as "public document" under Section 399 of the Companies Act, 2013. Accordingly, if a person deals with a company in a manner incompatible with the provisions of these documents or enters into transaction, which is ultra vires to these documents, he must do so at his risk. If someone supplies goods to a company in which it cannot deal according to its objects clause, he will not be able to recover the price from the company! Suppose the articles provide that two directors must sign a bill of exchange, if the bill is actually signed by one director only the holder thereof cannot claim payment thereon. However, the doctrine of constructive notice is not a positive one but a negative one like that of estoppel of which it forms parts. It operates only against the person who has been dealing with the company but not against the company itself; consequently, he is prevented from alleging that he did not know that the constitution of the company rendered a particular act or a particular delegation of authority ultra vires.

2.00 Doctrine of Indoor Management:

The doctrine of constructive notice does in no sense mean that outsiders are "deemed to have notice of the internal affairs of the company. For instance, if an act is authorised by the articles or memorandum, an outsider is entitled to assume that all the detailed formalities for doing, that act have been observed.

The outsider dealing with the company should assume that as far as internal proceedings are concerned everything has been done regularly. It is supposed that outsiders have read this document and have been proposed that dealing is done according to same principles as laid down in articles. The outsiders can't inquire about the regularity of internal proceeding. They have to presume that all is being done regularly. This limitation is called doctrine of indoor management. It is also known as “Turquand’s rule” exception to the doctrine of indoor management.

For example, the directors of R.B.B. Ltd. gave a bond to T, the articles empowered the directors to issue such bonds under the authority of a proper resolution. In fact, no such resolution was passed. Notwithstanding that, it was held that T could sue on the bonds on the ground that he was entitled to assume that the resolution had been duly passed [The Royal British Bank vs. Turquand(1956)] This is the doctrine of indoor management, popularly known as Turquand Rule, which is the only limitation to the doctrine of constructive notice discussed above:

3.00 Exceptions to the Doctrine of Indoor Management:

3.1 Knowledge of Irregularity:

The rule does not protect any person when the person dealing with the company has notice, whether actual or constructive, of the irregularity. Thus, director of a company cannot normally claim the benefit of the rule in the Turquand Case where he is also acting for the company in the transaction.

3.2 Negligence:

When a person dealing with a company can discover the irregularity by making proper inquiry then he cannot claim the benefit of the rules of indoor management. When the circumstances are of suspicious nature and the person who is outsider has failed to inquire into it then he shall not be entitled to be protected.

Anand Bihari Lal V/s Bins hawl and company, the plaintiff accepted a transfer of company’s property from its accountants it was held that transfer was void as such a transaction was merely beyond the scope of accountant’s authority. The plaintiff should have seen the power executed in favor of accountant by the company.

3.3 Forgery:

The rule of doctrine of indoor management does not apply upon a document that turns out to be forged. Since nothing can validate forgery. A company can never be held bound for forgery committed by its officers. The document is forgery when the seal of the company is fixed without any signature of an authorized person of the company.

Ex.: Rubel V/s Great Fingall company the secretary of a company issued a share certificate under the common seal with his own signature and signature of a director forged by him. It was held that the same certificate was not binding on the company. The person who gave money on the strength of this certificate was not entitled to be the shareholder of the company.

3.4 Acts outside the scope of apparent authority:

If an officer of a company enters into a contract with a third, party and if the act of the officer is beyond the scope of his authority then the company is not responsible in such case. Plaintiff cannot claim the protection of the rule of indoor management. Just because under the articles the power to do the act should not be delegated to him.

Ex.: Credit bank V/s schenker's limited a branch manager of a company drew endorsed bill of exchange on behalf of a company in favor of a payee to whom he was personally indebted. Actually, he had no authority from the company to do so. It was held that company was not bound to pay the personal expenses of a manager.

TOPIC- What is prospectus? Explain its contents in details.

ANS:

1.00 Introduction:

Prospectus may be defined as any circular, newspaper or advertisement published by the promoter after the formation of a company to induce, to invest in the shares of the company. Prospectus is an important document which contains terms and conditions of issue by which invites subscription from the public.

2.00 Meaning/Definition:

According to sec-2(36) of the company's act-1956, "Prospectus means any document distributed, prescribed or issued as a prospectus and include any notice, circular, advertisement or any other document inviting offers from the public for subscription, purchase of any shares or debentures of a body corporate"

A notice, circular advertisement or other document inviting deposits or any documents inviting general public to subscribe or purchase the shares or debentures of a body corporate".

Prospectus is a link between company and public. It brings them close prospectus is a company's authentic proposal. Hence, it should not contain misleading, false or misrepresented information of the company. Prospectus is a bridge where by people and investors can reach at the door of a company.

1.0 Meaning:

A public company having a share capital may not invite public to subscribe for its shares.

- if it arranges the required capital from sources other than inviting the general public.
- if it did issue a prospectus, but the issue is failure and it didn't allot any shares and it arranges the required finance from sources other than inviting the general public to its capital.

In such a case obviously, companies shall not issue the prospectus. The company's act requires that in such a case the company must file with the registrar statement in lieu of prospectus containing particulars set out in schedule-III of act. However, information required under schedule-III is similar to the information required in case of a prospectus.

2.00 Registration of statement in lieu of prospectus:

- Statement must be filed at least three days before the first allotment of shares or debentures.
- It must be signed in by every person named there in as a director or proposed director of the company.
- A private company is not required to file a statement in lieu of prospectus.

3.00 Penalty/Find:

- If a company starts to allot shares without filling statement in lieu of prospectus at least before 3 days of allotment of shares then the defaulting officers and the company shall be liable to fine extending to Rs.10,000.
- If the statement contains any untrue statement or omission of fact to the liability of related persons of the company is the same as in case of prospectus, that they have civil liability for compensating those who suffer any loss due to misstatement and they have criminal liability that are liable for imprisonment up to 2 years or fine up to Rs. 50,000 or both.

We can avoid liability if we prove either that the statement was immaterial or that he had reasonable ground to believe that the statement was true.

UNIT-3

DEVELOPMENT OF COMPANY LAW ADMINISTRATION

TOPIC: Setting-up of Company Law Administration in India.

Under the Companies Act, 2013, as originally enacted, the Company Law Administration had a three-tier set-up, namely,

- (a) Department of Company Law Administration (now Department of Company Affairs)
- (b) Regional Directors for four Regional Offices, and
- (c) Registrar of Companies for each State.

In addition, there were Liquidators known as Official Liquidators attached to each High Court in the States. The Central Government also set up an Advisory Commission to advise it on certain matters as required by Sec. 410 of the Act.

The above set-up was changed by the Companies (Amendment) Act of 1963. Under the Amendment Act, a Board of Company Law Administration (popularly known as the Company Law Board) was established. A Companies Tribunal was also set up to take speedy action in cases of fraud, misfeasance, malpractices and irregularities in company management. The Tribunal was, however, abolished in 1967. Under the Amendment Act of 1963, the Central Government was also empowered to appoint a Public Trustee by notification in the Official Gazette to discharge the functions and exercise the rights and powers conferred on him by or under the Act,

The Companies (Amendment) Act of 1965 deleted Secs. 410 to 415 of the Act dealing with Advisory Commission which has now been abolished, A new Sec. 410 was enacted which now provides for the appointment of an Advisory Committee.

□ Present Set-up of Company Law Administration

The present set-up dealing with company law administration of various stages and providing for various administrative authorities is as follows:

- (1) The Central Government
- (2) The Board of Company Law Administration.

functioning of the corporate sector in accordance with law. It is responsible mainly for regulation of Indian enterprises in Industrial and Services sector. The current minister of corporate affairs is Arun Jaitley.

TOPIC: Company Law Board

The Board of Company Law Administration (popularly known as the Company Law Board) was set up in February 1964 by the Central Government "for the better and convenient administration of the Companies Act," The Board was constituted to exercise and discharge such powers and functions conferred on the Central Government by or under the Companies Act as may be specified or by any other law and also to deal with any other matter that was delegated to it by the Central Government. Prior to the amendment of Sec. 10-E by the Amendment Act of 1988, the Company Law Board, in the exercise of its powers and discharge of its functions, was subject to the control of the Central Government and the procedure of the Board was such as was prescribed. Even the composition of the Board was from among the officers of the Central Government. The demand for an autonomous Board was therefore raised from time to time. The Amendment Act of 1988 now makes provision for the setting up of an independent Company Law Board to discharge such judicial and quasi-judicial functions as were being exercised either by the Court or the Central Government and these have been transferred to the Company Law Board.

□ Provisions of the amended Sec. 10-E:

The other provisions of the amended Sec. 10-E are as follows:

(1) Constitution of the Company Law Board

As soon as may be after the commencement of the Companies (Amendment) Act, 1988, the Central Government shall, by notification in the Official Gazette, constitute a Board to be called the Board of Company Law Administration.

The orders of the Company Law Board have been made appealable to High Court on questions of law by the Amendment Act of 1988 by introducing anew Sec. 10-F. According to this Section, any person aggrieved by any decision or order of the Company Law Board may file an appeal to the High Court within 60 days' from the date of communication of the decision or order of the Company Law Board to him on any question of law arising out of such order. This period of 60 days may be extended by, the High Court to a further period up to 60 days if it is satisfied that the appellant was prevented by sufficient cause from filing the appeal within the period of 60 days.

TOPIC: Regional Director

Ans. Four regional offices of the Board, each headed by a Regional Director, for the 4 zones into which the country has been divided have been set up at Bombay, Calcutta, Madras and Kanpur. This has been done with a view to decentralizing some of the functions of the Company Law Board. The Regional Directors function under the control and supervision of the Company Law Boards They

- (f) to function as a link between the Central Government and the State Governments in their respective zones.

TOPIC: Security Exchange Board of India (SEBI)

In 1988 the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) was established by the Government of India through an executive resolution, and was subsequently upgraded as a fully autonomous body (a statutory Board) in the year 1992 with the passing of the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act (SEBI Act) on 30th January 1992. In place of Government Control, a statutory and autonomous regulatory board with defined responsibilities, to cover both development & regulation of the market, and independent powers have been set up. Paradoxically this is a positive outcome of the Securities Scam of 1990-91.

The basic objectives of the Board were identified as:

- to protect the interests of investors in securities;

- to promote the development of Securities Market;
- to regulate the securities market and
- for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.

Since its inception SEBI has been working targeting the securities and is attending to the fulfillment of its objectives with commendable zeal and dexterity. The improvements in the securities markets like capitalization requirements, margining, establishment of clearing corporations etc. reduced the risk of credit and also reduced the market.

SEBI has introduced the comprehensive regulatory measures, prescribed registration norms, the eligibility criteria, the code of obligations and the code of conduct for different intermediaries like, bankers to issue, merchant bankers, brokers and sub-brokers, registrars, portfolio managers, credit rating agencies, underwriters and others. It has framed bye-laws, risk identification and risk management systems for Clearing houses of stock exchanges, surveillance system etc. which has made dealing in securities both safe and transparent to the end investor.

Another significant event is the approval of trading in stock indices (like S&P CNX Nifty & Sensex) in 2000. A market Index is a convenient and effective product because of the following reasons:

- It acts as a barometer for market behavior.
- It is used to benchmark portfolio performance.
- It is used in derivative instruments like index futures and index options.
- It can be used for passive fund management as in cap Index Funds.

Two broad approaches of SEBI is to integrate the securities market at the national level, and also to diversify the trading products, so that there is an increase in number of traders including banks, financial institutions, insurance companies, mutual funds, primary dealers etc. to transact through the Exchanges. In this context the introduction of derivatives trading through Indian Stock Exchanges permitted by SEBI in 2000 A.D. is a real landmark.

SEBI appointed the L. C. Gupta Committee in 1998 to recommend the regulatory framework for derivatives trading and suggest bye-laws for Regulation and Control of Trading and Settlement of Derivatives Contracts. The Board of SEBI in its meeting held on May 11, accepted the recommendations of the committee and approved the phased introduction of derivatives trading in India beginning with Stock Index Futures. The Board also approved the "Suggestive Bye-laws" as recommended by the Dr. L.C. Gupta Committee for Regulation and Control of Trading and Settlement of Derivatives Contracts.

SEBI then appointed the J. R. Verma Committee to recommend Risk Containment Measures (RCM) in the Indian Stock Index Put future Market. The report was submitted in November 1998.

However the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act 1956 (SCRA) required amendment to include "derivatives" in the definition of securities to enable SEBI to introduce trading in derivatives. The necessary amendment was then carried out by the Government in 1999. The Securities Laws (Amendment) Bill, 1999 was introduced. In December 1999 the new framework was approved.

Derivatives have been accorded the status of Securities. The ban imposed on trading in derivatives in 1969 under a notification issued by the Central Government was revoked. Thereafter SEBI formulated the necessary regulations/bye-laws and intimated the Stock Exchanges in the year 2000. The derivative trading started in India at NSE in 2000 and BSE started trading in the year 2001.

  - (6) The investigation department carries out the inspection of any alleged malpractices or frauds relating to securities market.
- All these authorities are exercised through various independent departments of the SEBI.

TOPIC: Role of SEBI in Primary Market.

Role of SEBI in Primary Market:

To protect the interest of the investors and to bring back the small Investors to the market several measures have been undertaken by SEBI. Entry and disclosure norms are tightened to prevent the exploitation of Investors by the unscrupulous promoters. Allocation of shares and Promoters' contribution are regulated.

Role of SEBI in Primary Market

(1) Entry Norms

SEBI has issued guidelines to tighten the entry norms for companies accessing the capital market.

- (i) A company should have a record of accomplishment of dividend payments for a minimum period of 3 years preceding the issue.
- (ii) A company whose shares are already listed would fulfill the entry-level requirement only if the post issue net worth becomes more than five times the pre issue net worth.
- (iii) If a manufacturing company does not have such a record of accomplishment it could access the public issue market, provided a public financial institution or a scheduled commercial bank appraises its project. The appraising entity should also participate in the project fund.
- (iv) It would be necessary for a corporate body making a public issue to have at least five public shareholders for every Rs. 1 lac of the net capital offer made to the public.

(2) Promoters' Contribution

Promoters' contribution means contribution by those described in the prospectus as promoters, directors, friends, relatives and associates.

- (i) Promoters' contribution should not be less than 20% of the issued capital irrespective of the issue size.
- (ii) The entire promoters' contribution should be received before the public issue. If the issue size exceeds 100 crores, the promoters can bring in not less than 50% of their contribution before opening of the issue and bring in the balance before the calls are made on the shareholders.
- (iii) SEBI announced that not more than 20 per cent of the entire contribution brought in by promoters cumulatively in public or preferential issue would be locked in for 5 years. SEBI lifted the provision of lock in period for promoters, contribution in case of listed companies with 3 years record of accomplishment of dividend payment.
- (iv) According to the decision taken by the SEBI Board, in case of non-underwritten public issue promoters could bring their own money or procure subscription from elsewhere within 60 days of the closure of the issue subject to such disclosures in the offer document.

(3) Disclosure

The draft prospectus filed with SEBI is made as a public document to enhance transparency. The draft prospectus should provide all the needed information to the investor regarding the present position of the company, the future prospect and the risk factors associated with the investment of the company.

(4) Book Building

Book building has been accepted as one of the modes of public issue. SEBI issued guidelines relating to 100 per cent book-building in an issue of security to the public through prospectus.

(5) Allocation of Shares

To bring back the small investors to the primary market, the minimum application of share has been reduced from 500 to 200. Proportionate allotment of shares is made. A reservation of minimum 50 % of net offers to the small investors is being made. Small investors mean those who have applied for 1000 or fewer shares or securities.

(6) Market Intermediaries

Licensing of merchant bankers or authorization by SEBI was the first step undertaken to regulate the intermediaries. This licensing of merchant bankers is based on the capital adequacy as well as the track record of the capital market related activities. In course of time,

TOPIC : Meaning and Functions of Company's High court and Tribunal

Meaning of Court and Tribunal

A tribunal is an assembly of people with special knowledge about a subject who are called to resolve a dispute. It is usually less formal and faster than a judge and jury trial. Tribunals exist in parallel to the traditional court system, but they are not part of it. Tribunals are usually assembled when there is no court with jurisdiction over a specific issue, such as with war crimes. The United Nations frequently appoints tribunals to hear international matters because there is no court that has jurisdiction over world matters.

Another major difference between courts and tribunals is that, with the exception of the members of the Supreme Court, who are appointed, judges are typically elected officials in the United States. Tribunal members are usually appointed because of their knowledge or experience with the issue that the tribunal is attempting to resolve. Judges, by contrast, are individuals with general knowledge about the law. Tribunals are faster, less expensive options to a traditional judge and jury trial because they do not involve a jury selection process. Rather, a tribunal acts as both judge and jury in a tribunal proceeding. A tribunal is typically a panel of people, although it does not have to be so by definition.

Functions of Companies High Court and Tribunal

(1) The Companies Tribunal or a member of the Tribunal acting alone in accordance with this the Companies Act. 2008 (Act No. 71 of 2008) may:

□ Introduction:-

The National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) is a quasi-judicial body in India that adjudicates issues relating to companies in India. The NCLT was established under the Companies Act 2013 and was constituted on 1 June 2016.

The NCLT has eleven benches, two at New Delhi (one being the principal bench) and one each at Ahmedabad, Allahabad, Bengaluru, Chandigarh, Chennai, Guwahati, Hyderabad, Kolkata and Mumbai. Justice M.M. Kumar, a retired judge of the Punjab and Haryana High Court has been appointed as President of the NCLT.

The NCLT has the power under the Companies Act to adjudicate proceedings initiated before the Company Law Board under the previous act (the Companies Act 1956); pending before the Board for Industrial and Financial Reconstruction, including those pending under the Sick Industrial Companies (Special Provisions) Act 1985: pending before the Appellate Authority for Industrial and Financial Reconstruction; and pertaining to claims of oppression and mismanagement of a company, winding up of companies and all other powers prescribed under the Companies Act.

Decisions of the N C LT may be appealed to the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal.

Constitution of National Company Law Tribunal (Sec. 408)

The Central Government shall, by notification, constitute, with effect from such date as may be specified therein, a Tribunal to be known as the National Company Law Tribunal consisting of a President and such number of Judicial and Technical members, as the Central Government may deem necessary, to be appointed by it by notification, to exercise and discharge such powers and functions as are, or may be, conferred on it by or under this Act or any other law for the time being in force.

REGARDING DIVIDEND & INTEREST

TOPIC: 'Dividend' and rules regarding the payment of dividend

1.00 Introduction:

All the trading companies are formed with a view to earn profits for their members. It may be noted that every company has the power to distribute the part of its profit among its members. In order to determine the profits made in a particular year, proper accounts are to be maintained by the companies. These accounts enable the members to know about the affairs of the company. The accounts should be properly checked and examined. So that true and correct position be presented before the members.

2.00 Meaning of Dividend:

The term dividend may be defined as the portion of the profits that falls to the share of each individual share holder of the company. In other words, it is the return on the share that each share holder gets from the company out of its profits. The term dividend also includes any interim dividend.

3.00 Rules regarding the payment of dividends:

We know that every company has the power to distribute its profits among its shareholders in the form of dividend. It will be interesting to know that the power to declare and pay dividends need not only be given by the MOA or AOA of the company but the company has an implied power to pay dividends. The following rules must be followed as regards its payment.

3.1 Resolution at the annual general meeting:

The dividend is declared by the company by the resolution passed at the annual general meeting. The B.O.D. determines the rate of dividend to be declared and recommends it to the meeting of share holders. The rate determined by the board is to be sanctioned by the members of the company in general meeting. They may reduce the rate but they cannot increase it. Therefore, dividend can only be declared by the members of the company.

3.2 Payment of dividend in proportion to paid up capital:

A company may, if so authorized by its articles, pay dividends in proportion to the amount paid up on each share, where unequal amounts have been paid on some shares, the dividend may be unequal as among different shareholders. In absence of such clause in articles, members are entitled to dividend in proportion to the nominal value of shares and not in proportion to the amount paid thereon.

3.3 Dividend to be paid only out of profits:

The dividends can be paid only out of profits, and can never be paid out of the capital of the company. The payment of dividends out of capital is illegal. The directors who pay the dividends out of capital are personally liable to pay that much amount to the company. The dividend is paid put of following 3 sources.

1. Profits of the company for the current year.
2. The undistributed profits of the previous financial years; or
3. The money provided by the central or state government for the payment of dividend in respect of the guarantee given by it.

3.4 Dividends payable in cash only:

The dividends are to be paid in cash only. However, the company may decide to use its accumulated profits by issuing bonus shares. The dividends payable in cash may be paid by cheque or warrant sent through the post.

3.5 Dividend to the registered shareholders only:

The dividend shall be paid to the holder of shares whose name appears in the register of members or to his banker and if the share warrant has been issued, then to the bearer of the share warrant or to his banker.

3.6 Transfer to the reserves up to 10% out of profits:

Before any dividends is declared or paid, out of the current year, certain percentage of profit as may be prescribed by the central government, but not exceeding 10% will have to be transferred to the reserves of the company. The company may however voluntarily transfer the higher profits to the reserves.

3.7 Interim Dividends by B.O.D:

The B.O.D. may also declare an interim dividend at any time between the 2 annual general meetings of the company. The amount of interim dividend so declared shall be deposited in a separate bank account within 5 days from the date of declaration of such dividend. The amount so deposited shall be used for the payment of interim dividend.

3.8 Dividend becomes debt-payable:

Once a dividend is declared, it becomes debt due form the company to its shareholders and the shares entitled to the dividend can enforce the payment through court within 3 years of declaration. The company may however deduct from the dividend any call due to the company or any other amount payable in relation to the shares. However, the interim dividend does not become a debt payable by the company, because it is open to the directors to revoke the resolution before the payment of interim dividends.

3.9 Liability of directors in case of payment out of capital:

The dividends must be paid within 30 days from the date of declaration of the dividends. The dividend warrant if issued should also be posted within 30 days period. If it is not paid within this time, director in default shall be punishable with imprisonment up to 3 years and with a fine of Rs. 10,000 for every day during which default continues. The company will also have to pay interest at the rate of 18% per annum for the period of default.

3.10 provisions of section 73 & 74:

A company, which fails to comply with the provisions of sections 73 and 74, shall not, so long as such failure continues, declare any dividend on its equity shares.

4.00 Conclusion:

Thus, the company is required to follow this rules and regulations of declaring the dividend otherwise; they need to be punished for the imprisonment and penalty. The B.O.D. cannot declare dividend out of capital otherwise, they will be personally liable.

(1) Interim dividend

Interim dividend is paid generally in the mid of the year i.e. for the period of six months. It is paid as per the provisions of Indian Companies Act, 1956 and in accordance with Articles of Association. In absence of Articles of Association. Table-A is taken into consideration. Profit is calculated for the period of six months for the distribution of dividend. It can be distributed by the unanimous decision of the management. The management passes a resolution for the distribution of dividend along with the permission granted by the members of general meeting. It is not compulsory for the company to pay such dividend once declared. It is paid keeping in mind past years profit and by making estimation of profit for coming next six months period.

(2) Final or annual dividend

The dividend paid at the end of the accounting year from net divisible profit of the year is known as final or annual dividend. The management of the company decides the rate of such dividend. The declaration of final dividend is made in the annual general meeting. Such dividend is considered as liability for the company. It is because interim dividend though declared may not be paid to shareholders by the will of the management. However, final dividend once declared is to be paid by the management to the shareholders. If not paid to shareholders then shareholders may claim for it.

Differences between Interim Dividend and Final Dividend

An interim dividend differs from a final dividend in the following respects:

- (1) The Board of Directors declares an interim dividend while the shareholders in the Annual General Meeting declare a final dividend.
- (2) An interim dividend is declared before the preparation of the final accounts. A final dividend, on the other hand, can be declared only after the accounts are prepared and the profit is ascertained.
- (3) Interim dividend relates to a part of the year (i.e.,) usually six months. A final dividend relates to the full year.
- (4) The Board can declare an interim dividend only when the Articles expressly permit a declaration. There need not be any express provision in the Articles for declaring a final dividend. It is an inherent right of the shareholders.
- (5) An interim dividend once declared shall not become a debt due from the company to the shareholders. While a final dividend, once declared, shall become a debt due from the company.
- (6) The directors are also empowered to cancel the declaration of the interim dividend after it is declared. The shareholders, once declared final dividend, cannot cancel the declaration.

TOPIC: Unpaid dividend account.

1.00 Introduction:

We know that the dividend must be paid within 30 days of the declaration of the dividend and if the dividend is not paid within this period, the directors are punishable with a fine and imprisonment. It may further be noted that in such a case, the company will have to open an account in any schedule bank to be called “Unpaid Dividend A/C of ..... Co. Ltd.” And unpaid dividend is to be transferred to this account within 7 days after the expiry of the said period of 30 days. If company fails to transfer the amount to the “Unpaid Dividend A/C” within 7 days, the company shall have to pay interest @ 12% p.a. from the date of default.

2.00 Provisions:

Other provisions relating to the “unpaid dividend Account” and payment of unpaid dividend may be discussed as under:

1. In case the amount transferred to the unpaid dividend account, remains unpaid or unclaimed for a period of 7 years from the date of transfer, the company has to transfer the same to the “Investor Education and Protection Fund.” The company shall also give the authority or committee appointed by the central government, the details of person entitled to claim the dividend.
2. On transferring the amount to “Investor Education and Protection Fund”, the company shall get a receipt, which is an effective discharge of company in respect of amount transferred to the fund. This means the company shall not be liable to any claim in respect of the amount so transferred.
3. The amount transferred to “Investor Education and Protection Fund” shall be utilized for the promotion of investor awareness and for protection of the interest of investors.
4. On the transfer of unclaimed dividend to the “Investor Education and Protection Fund”, no person shall be entitled to claim the same. The newly added Sec. 205-C, specially provide that no claim shall lie against the company for individual amounts which were unclaimed for a period of 7 years from the date they first become due for the payment.

3.00 Penalty:

If company fails to comply with the provisions regarding transfer of unpaid dividend, the company and every officer in default shall be punishable with a fine up to Rs. 5000 for every day during which the default continues.

- It must be noted that if any encumbrances are found regarding both declaration as well as payment of dividend, auditor will be wholly held liable.

TOPIC: “Divisible profits and points are to be taken into consideration by determining divisible profit

1.00 Introduction:

The object of any company is to earn profits and distribute it among the proprietors of business. Hence, the question of determination of profit assumes great significance. The directors, M.D., are sometimes paid remuneration at a specified percentage of such profit. Moreover, the entire profit cannot be distributed in form of dividend to the shareholder so it is important to know what is divisible profit.

2.00 What is profit

The company’s act is silent on the definition of profit and it does not say as to what profit is and what profit is divisible.

“Profit is defined as excess of income over expenditure relating to the period.”

“Profit implies a comparison between the states of business at two specific dates usually separated by an interval of a year.”

3.00 Definition of Divisible Profit:

The term, 'Divisible profit' relates to those profits, this can be legally distributed among the shareholders of the company, by the way of dividend.

4.00 Guiding Principles in computing divisible profits:

The following principles must be kept in mind:

4.1 The generally accepted principle of accountancy:

It is necessary to follow normally accepted principles. A proper allocation of income and expenses into capital and revenue is required. Before distributing current profits, the losses of earlier years must be set off against the profits, etc.

4.2 Regulation of MOA and AOA:

The articles lay down the rules for internal management of a company. The profit can be distributed only by following the regulations of MOA & AOA.

4.3 Legal decision:

In absence of any specific definition of term, divisible profit, reliance has to be placed on the decision of court.

4.4 Provisions of the company's Act:

Sec-205 lays down that no dividend shall be paid out of profits of the company before providing depreciation on fixed assets.

5.00 Factors influencing divisible profit:

The following factors affects divisible profits:

5.1 Capital profits:

Capital profits are not to be distributed. There must to be distribution as to capital profit to be distributed as Bonus shares or cash dividends. Capital profits are made available if-

- (A) The articles do not prohibit distribution in this way.
- (B) The capital profit should have been realized.
- (C) The surplus profit remains even after revaluation of fixed assets of the company.

5.2 Capital losses:

The losses on capital may arise due to depreciation of capital assets. If company has lost part of its capital, it may declare or pay dividend without making good the capital, which has been lost

Following are the important principles of divisible profits:

(1) According To the Company Rules

The articles of association are the rules of the company. The directors are entitled to distribute the profits under rules. They also follow the company law. The dividend can be paid out of revenue profit.

(2) Follow the Court Cases

While calculating the divisible profits, the court cases must be kept in mind. The auditors must know the decisions of the courts announced time to time.

(3) Profit Not Out Of Capital

The capital cannot be used to pay dividend. The revenue profits can be used for the payment of dividend

(4) Approval of Shareholders

In the annual general meeting, shareholders may approve the rate of profit recommended by the directors. So, divisible profits can be used to pay dividend after approval

(5) Right of Proposal

The directors can propose the rate of dividend out of divisible profits. After completing the legal formalities, the directors can decide the dividend.

(6) Undistributed Profit

"Stock exchange is an association, organization or body of individuals, whether incorporated or not, established for the purpose of assisting, regulating and controlling business of buying, selling and dealing in securities".

□ Features of Stock Exchange

Characteristics or features of stock exchange are:

(1) Market for securities

Stock exchange is a market, where securities of corporate bodies' government and semi-government bodies are bought and sold.

(2) Deals in second hand securities

It deals with shares, debentures bonds and such securities already issued by the companies. In short, it deals with existing or second hand securities and hence it is called secondary market.

(3) Regulates trade in securities

Stock exchange does not buy or sell any securities on its own account. It merely provides the necessary infrastructure and facilities for trade in securities to its members and brokers who trade in securities. It regulates the trade activities to ensure free and fair trade.

(4) Allows dealings only in listed securities

In fact, stock exchanges maintain an official list of securities that could be purchased and sold on its floor. Securities, which do not figure in the official list of stock exchange, are called unlisted securities. Such unlisted securities cannot be traded in the stock exchange.

(5) Transactions effected only through members

All the transactions in securities at the stock exchange are effected-only through its authorized brokers and members. Outsiders or direct-investors are not allowed to enter in the trading circles of the stock exchange. Investors have to buy or sell the securities at the stock exchange through the authorized brokers only.

(6) Association of persons

A stock exchange is an association of persons or body of individuals-which may be registered or unregistered.

(7) Recognition from Central Government

Stock exchange is an organized market. It requires recognition from the Central Government.

The listing of securities is done as per the legal provisions of Securities Contract Regulations, 1956. The companies intended to list their securities in stock exchanges have to make several contracts with the stock exchanges. The essential legal provisions that are to be followed by the companies are as under:

- (1) The company has to make advertisements of atleast 49% of its securities from the total securities. The newspaper advertisement is the offer made by the company to the public.
- (2) The stock exchange will make listing of securities only when public is interested to invest in such securities. Such securities must be issued in public interest. These aspects are checked by the stock exchange before listing.
- (3) The company has to make following provisions in its Articles of Association for the purpose of listing of securities:
  - (i) The right of the company for partly paid up shares and shares without lien shall be restricted upto the amount not recovered.
  - (ii) The company has a right to collect interest on the amount not recovered by it.
  - (iii) The company has to give notice to the stock exchange before fifteen days before the closing of share transfer book.

The authorities of stock exchange verify all the above mentioned documents and if they are satisfied then only securities are listed in stock exchange.

TOPIC : Importance of listing.

The question arises here is that why listing is necessary? We know that the market price of securities keeps on changing. Moreover, trading of securities i.e. purchasing and selling is done frequently by their holders. Lots of financial frauds and scams are evident nowadays regarding new issue markets. Thus, there is an utmost requirement for safe platform to be provided to investors. Due to this, there is necessity of listing. Most of the companies are involved in financial scams. Their involvement in financial scams can be stopped by listing their securities. The transparency of securities can be maintained by listing. The trusts of
